Section-V

Directions : Read the following passage and answer the questions by selecting the answer choice from the alternatives given.

Long ago, Emerson wrote : 'A man's task is his life preserver.' This seems to be remarkably correct in our modern life. The man without task is like a ship without a ballast and anchor, he is all too often merely a drifter. Few men seem to have initiative enough to choose a task for themselves if they do not need to work. When the inevitable disappointments come, as they assuredly will, they are completely overwhelmed. But the man who has his task, has no time for vain regret, he escapes the disastrous fate which overtakes his less fortunate brother. Work is one of the greatest safety-valves which was ever invented, and youth especially needs it.

56. It seems to be remarkably correct in modern life that :

- a) a man has enough leisure
 b) youth needs less work and more rest
 c) the correct choice of the task preserves one's life
 d) men fail to choose a task for themselves

57. The expression 'safety-valves' mean :

- a) something which blows up safety
 b) an outlet for pent-up energy
 c) something which guarantees safety
 d) a leaf of a folding door

58. A ship without ballast and anchor :

- a) is in great danger
 b) merely drifts
 c) is very safe
 d) may not go in the right direction

59. A man who suffers from vain regret must :

- a) have chosen his life's work rather carelessly
 b) meet with disastrous fate
 c) have been a victim of circumstances to do so
 d) be very safe

60. A person who has chosen the right task has no time to regret because he :

- a) is engrossed in his work
 b) has too much to do
 c) has succeeded in life
 d) has a safe and secured life

Directions : From the given underlined idioms, choose the best alternative which expresses the closest meaning of the idiom.
